Overview of Serious Misconduct FY 2023/24 Quarter Three

Snapshot of the Quarter

Reports and Notifications

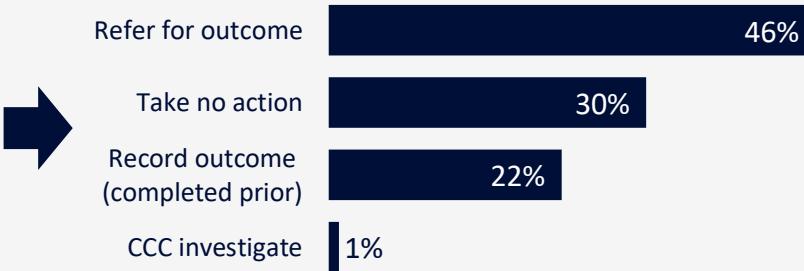

During the quarter 726 notifications were received, consistent with previous quarters.

Members of the public again accounted for the largest proportions of notifications received.

Action Taken

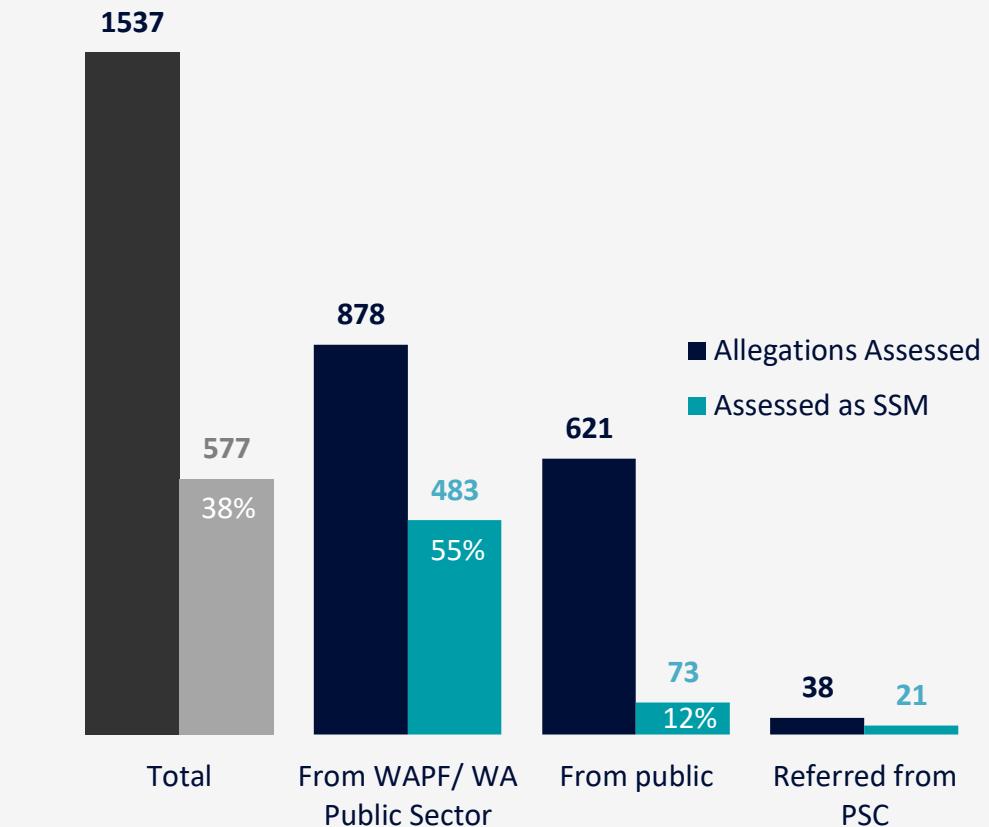

Of the 577 allegations that were assessed as suspected serious misconduct, 46% were referred back to the appropriate authority for action.

Allegations Assessed

1537 total allegations were assessed during the quarter.

Overall 38% of allegations assessed met the threshold of suspected serious misconduct.

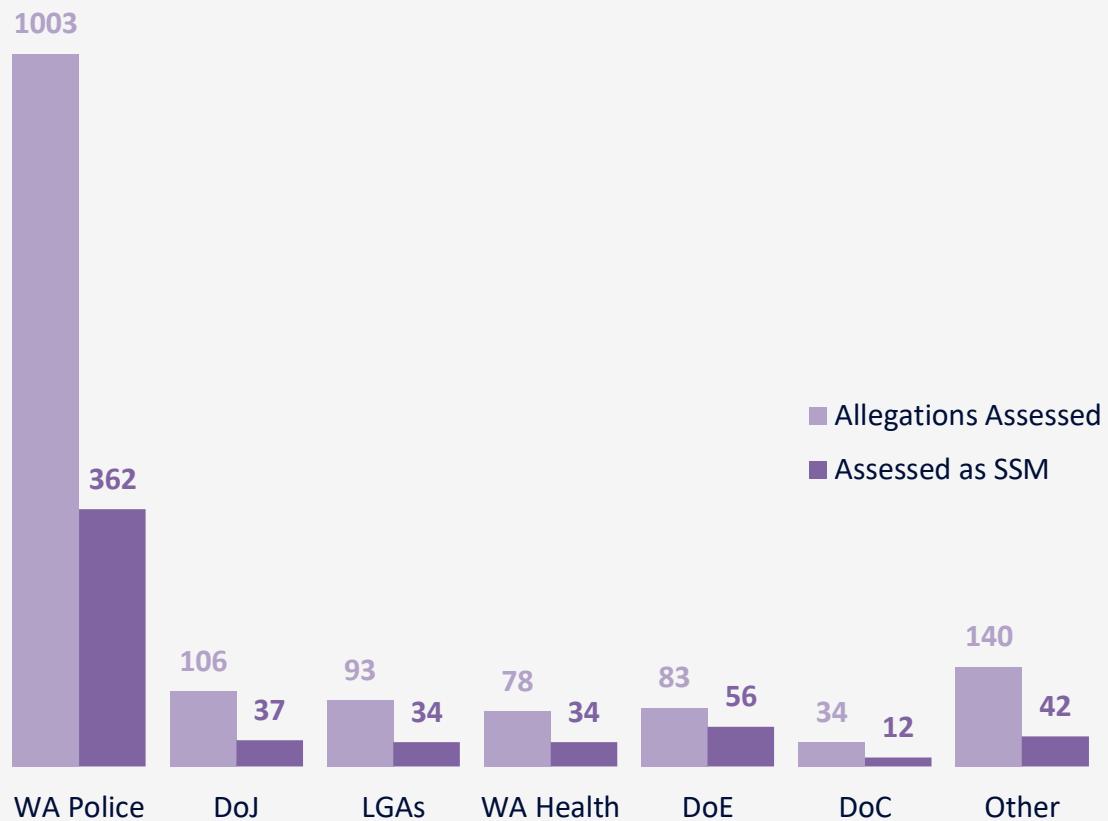

Allegations Assessed

Allegations Assessed

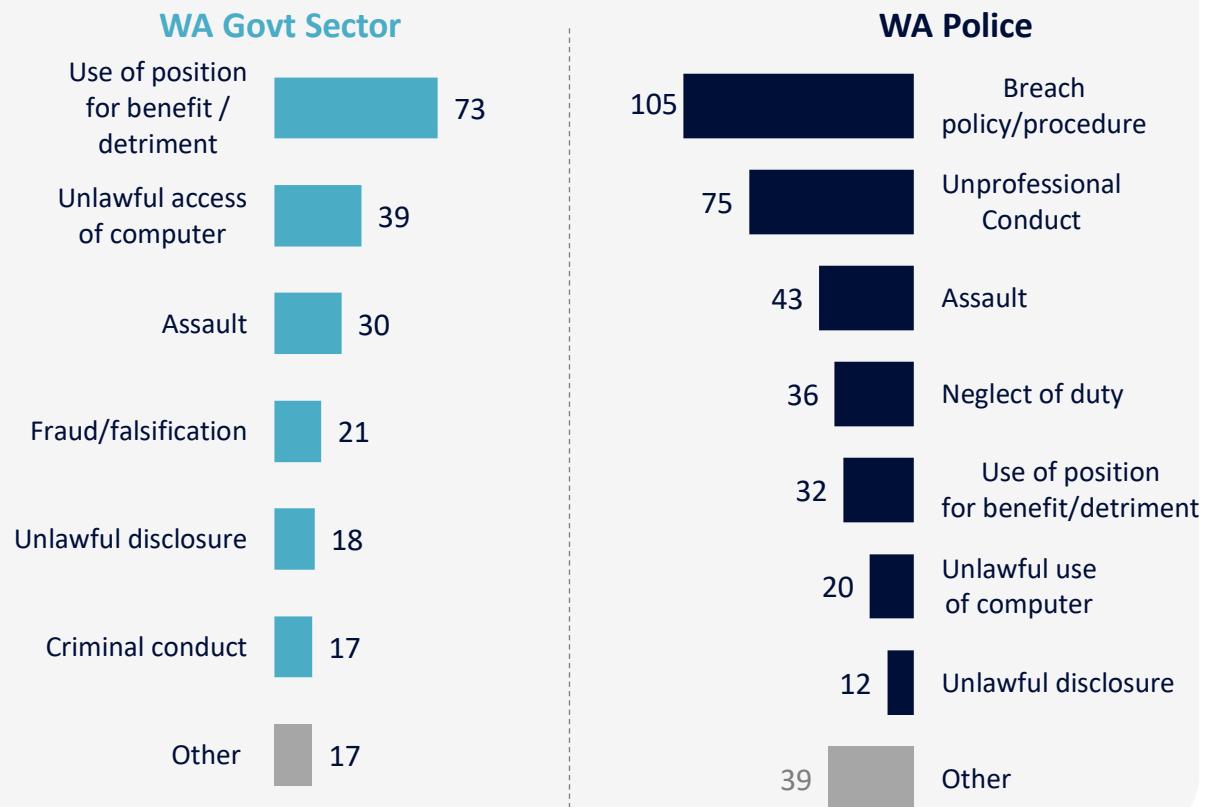

The majority of allegations assessed were related to WA Police which is consistent with previous quarters. This is indicative of both the public-facing nature of police work as well as the Commission's jurisdiction extending to include minor misconduct in relation to WA Police.

Allegation Categories - SSM

In the WA Government sector, the most common categories of allegations that met the threshold of serious misconduct were corrupt use of position for a benefit or detriment, unlawful use of a computer and assault.

For police, breach of procedure and unprofessional conduct were the most common areas of suspected misconduct.
